The Internet is awash with hundreds of YouTube videos of DIY deck restorers telling tales of epic failures of these thick film deck paints. Not only has it cost the consumer lots of money to prep and apply but now in most cases, these products haven't even lasted 12 months.

These customers are at a complete loss as to what to do next. Based on the TV advertising and roll out of these types of products, there must be thousands of customers all over the world facing the same nightmare.

At CUTOTEK, we receive calls every day from customers experiencing coating failure problems.

We can help you with your problems and provide the right advice and product to fix up the mess. Using the CUTOTEK system will ensure this never happens again.

Send an email through telling us about your story. We can help!
