Professional results every time

ProClean is a professional wood restoration product that is quite different to all other wood cleaning chemicals. The biggest point of difference is its ability to stay wet and active for up to 48 hours where it works deep into the wood to remove severe staining.

This Radiata Pine wood sample had a steel hacksaw left on the surface for over three months in full weather exposure. The pine greyed off and the iron stain was deeply entrenched in the wood. ProClean at full strength was left on this badly stained pine for 12 hours and then cleaned off with water. ProClean remains active even when the wood appears to be dry.

Other deck cleaning/brightening products have a limited working time and stop their cleaning action when dry so need constant wetting. Often this limited time isn't enough to remove iron stain or other deep stains.

ProClean is for the serious professional who wants superior results, but is simple enough for the first time user.
